- Enjoy a trip that offers you a mix of riding and sightseeing/hiking
- Revel in the magnificence of the Andes mountains and the Sacred Valley of the Incas
- Guided and supported by a Peruvian team who are local and familiar with the mountains
- As the expedition is an exclusive ride of EJ departure dates are flexible. Do not hesitate to send us your preferred dates and we will try to organise it.

Day 1 — 1: EUROPE - LIMA - No riding

Arrive at Lima airport, where you will be met and transferred to your hotel for the night. The evening is free for you to rest and recover from the flight.

Please note: International flights are not included in the price. Please ensure that your flight arrives by late afternoon.

Day 2 — 2: LIMA - CUSCO - No riding

Today you will be transferred back to Lima airport for your short flight to Cusco (3400m). Upon your arrival, you will be met at the airport and taken to your hotel. You'll then have a free morning by yourself to get used to the altitude or to explore the city.

In the afternoon, you will be taken on a guided tour. Modern day Cusco, built on the foundations of the ancient capital of the Inca Empire, is a true testament to ancient architecture and advanced town planning. After their conquest over the Inca Empire, the Spanish transformed Cusco in the belief that by building a bigger and more beautiful city, they would be able to hide the city's Inca roots.

You will explore the city centre through a maze of narrow streets lined with Inca walls and out into the main square, Plaza de Armas. You will visit the cathedral and the Santo-Domingo convent which was built on the remains of the Inca site Korincancho - the ancient temple of the Sun.

You will then be transferred up into the hills, which dominate the city. You will visit Tambomachay at 3700m - a beautiful Inca site called the Temple of Water, steeped in the glorious history of the Incas. You will continue to Pucapucara, a fortress which guarded the entrance to the capital and offers a beautiful view across the valley and Andean summits, as well as Quenqo, an important religious sanctuary and the site of altars where llamas and alpacas were sacrificed. Finally you will visit Sacsayhuaman, with its cyclopean masonry symbolising the head of a puma - where Cusco is believed to represent its body.

Lunch and dinner are yours to organise as you wish and are payable locally.

Day 3 — 3: CUSCO - AGUAS CALIENTES - No riding

After an early morning departure, you will discover the lush Sacred Valley of the Incas with a shared guide and transport. Your bus will first make a stop in the colonial village of Písaq (2900m), where after visiting the craft market, you will ascend a twisting road to a lookout across the town with a breathtaking view of its terraces, fountains, watchtowers, rooftops and temples.

Continuing on by road, you will cross the valley shadowed by the Urubamba mountains, arriving finally into the village of Ollantaytambo (2700m), where you can find Inca houses and streets dating back to the XV century. Later in the afternoon, you will catch the train to Aguas Calientes (2040m), the gateway to Machu Picchu, where you will spend the night in a hotel.

Day 4 — 4: AGUAS CALLIENTES - MACHU PICCHU - CUSCO - No riding

This morning you will take the shuttle to Machu Picchu (2400m). This ancient lost city of the Incas is located in the middle of lush tropical vegetation and high above the Urubamba River. Re-discovered on 24th July 1911 by the American explorer Hiram Bingham, Machu Picchu remains a jewel of Inca architecture: brickwork, squares, royal houses, large agricultural zones, winding paths and observatories. After the visit, you will have the option to climb Huayna Picchu for a fantastic view across this wonderful site.

In the afternoon, you will return to Ollantaytambo by train and then to Cusco by private transfer. Dinner is yours to organise as you wish and is payable locally.

Day 5 — 5: CUSCO – PACCHANTA - 6-7 hours riding

Today is the start of your horse ride! You will set off by bus towards Cusco's southern valley. The first stop is Urcos, the capital of the province where the Ausangate mountain is located. You will then climb the Pilluyo pass, from where you will have a view of the Vilcanota range. You'll arrive at Mahuayani (4100m), a small hamlet where you'll meet the local team and get to know the arrieros (muleteers) and horses, before embarking on your adventure. The route will take you to the hamlet of Marampaqui (4190m) and then on to Pacchanta (4340m), where you'll camp the thermal baths of the same name. You will take advantage of the natural hot springs to bathe and stretch your muscles in front of the imposing Ausangate (6270m), the guardian of the region.

Day 6 — 6: PACCHANTA - ANANTAPATA - 6-7 hours riding

After breakfast, you will follow the path against the current of the Ausangate River, climbing slightly. Today you will have the opportunity to see a very curious animal typical of the region: the 'vizcacha', a type of wild squirrel. You'll arrive at Lake Azulcocha (4600m), from where you'll enjoy a marvellous view of mountains over 6000m high. Afterwards, you'll continue up a wide path, descending to Upis (4440m), climbing to the Arapa pass (4750m) and descending past Lake Pucacocha, to continue on to the Pucapunta pass at 5050m, with magnificent views of the east face of the Ausangate. Finally, you will continue to your camp at Anantapata at 4800m.

Day 7 — 7: ANANTAPATA - CHILCA - 5-6 hours riding

 Camping

Today you will climb to the Anantapata Pass (5000m), where you will have a distant view of the famous rainbow mountain, Vinicunca. You'll then head down and visit the mountain on foot, climbing to the viewpoint of the Red Valley. Next, it's off to meet the horses and the team before continuing your journey to the hamlet of Chillca (4400m), where you'll set up camp.

Day 8 — 8: CHILLCA - JAHUAYCATI VALLEY - 5-6 hours riding

 Camping

Another full day in the saddle today, as you continue your adventure with a ride up to the Jahuaycati pass (5100). From here, you can still see the Ausangate and Tucu mountains. You will then descend into the Jahuaycati Valley (4650m), where you will camp for the night.

Day 9 — 9: JAHUAYCATI VALLEY - INCACANCHA - 7 hours riding

Today you will continue your journey downhill to the town of Canchapampa (4770m), where you will see a small school lost in the mountains. You will then climb up to the Chacata Pass (4930m), where you can observe small troops of vicuñas - a type of wild South American camelid. Finally, you'll descend to Incacancha (4540m), where you'll spend your last night in a camp site under the stars.

Day 10 — 10: INCACANCHA - CUSCO - No riding

After breakfast, you will take the bus to Sicuani where you will stop for lunch. You'll then continue your journey back to Cusco and sleep overnight in a hotel.

Day 11 — 11: CUSCO - LIMA - EUROPE - No riding

Today will you be transferred to the airport for your flight to Lima, where you will take your international flight back home.

There is also the possibility to do an extension in Puno:

In the morning you would take the bus to Puno found on the banks of the famous Lake Titicaca. The road there is beautiful with varying countryside (approx. 6h30 by bus).

- Day 12: Cusco - Puno
- Day 13: Puno - Uros Island - Amantani Island
- Day 14: Amantani Island - Taquile Island - Puno
- Day 15: Puno - Juliaca - Lima

Horses

You will ride Criollo horses which have been bred in the mountains. They are small, docile and ideally suited to the terrain and harsh conditions.

Guide & local team

You are escorted by a guide and accompanied by a cook and a team of mules and mule herdsmen. Your guide is a Spanish speaker and although they are not fluent in English, they know enough to provide information and help throughout the trip.

Minimum riding ability

MINIMUM RIDING ABILITY

You must feel comfortable on horseback and secure in the saddle as the terrain is very hilly and variable.

An experience of trail rides over several days is mandatory.

The rider weight limit is 90kgs, contact us if you weigh more than this and wish to ride

PACE

The riding pace is slow and at a walk due to the difficult terrain.

TACKING ABILITY AND PARTICIPATION

You will be asked to assist with tacking, untacking and grooming your horse. You are also welcome to assist with feeding and watering the horses and mules, if you wish.

TRIP CONDITIONS AND REQUESTED EXPERIENCE

Your need to be physically fit and active with experience of outdoor living. You should also have experience riding for a number of consecutive days on a trail. The terrain is difficult and there are significant elevation changes - you will be asked to dismount and lead your horse at times.

The ride is at an altitude of 3,000m - 5,000m and requires you to be in good health. The weather in the mountains can be variable with cold nights (down to -10c) possible at the high altitude camps.

Visiting a new country offers the opportunity to meet other cultures with different mentalities, therefore it is important to accept these differences and respect the local way of life.

EQUESTRIAN EQUIPMENT

Tack will be local with simple snaffle bridles. You are supported by mules for the entire riding trip and all your belongings will be carried with you.

TRAVEL INFO

COMFORT

In Cusco and Lima you stay in 3 star standard hotels. In Punto and Aguas Calientes the hotels are simpler, yet still clean and comfortable.

On the trail, you will camp in spacious two man tents with mattresses provided. There will be a central mess tent for the kitchen/dining complete with small table and chairs.

If you choose to add the extension to Lake Titicaca on the island of Taquile, you will stay in homestay accommodation with the locals.

The hotels you stay in may differ to those shown in the itinerary depending on availability at the time of booking. All alternative hotels will be of the same standard as those listed in the itinerary.

MEALS

On the trail all meals will be prepared by your cook using fresh local produce. In the cities, you will eat in restaurants with a focus on traditional Peruvian cooking. Make sure to bring purification tablets such as Micropur.

CLIMATE

Peru has two seasons - one wet and one dry.

In the heart of the Andes, the wet season runs from October to April, and the dry season from May to September. To make the most of the view and the atmosphere, the dry season is the best time to visit.

In Cusco (3,250m) temperatures can drop to as low as zero celsius in July/August, and as high as 23c in November.

In Arequipa (2,525m) temperatures can drop as low as 6c in July/August and as high as 23c in November. There is very little rainfall in this area.

Generally there are cold nights and mornings because of the altitude, but the days can be sunny and pleasant.

TIPS

Tips are not expected but are very welcome. You should tip what you feel is appropriate given the level of service you receive. We recommend c. £5 - £10 per person to be split between your team.

PACKING LIST

Throughout the ride, all of your luggage will be transported by mules "travelling light" in order to minimise the load is something to consider.

Head

- Equus Journeys strongly recommend that you wear a riding helmet and that you take your own to ensure a correct fit. There are many lightweight options available nowadays
- Sunhat for when not riding
- Sunglasses - with a cord attached so they don't fly off when riding
- Buff or bandana
- Warm hat for cold nights when camping

Upper body

- Thermals (long or short sleeved)
- Long sleeved shirts provide protection from the sun and are an extra layer
- T-shirts
- Lightweight fleece or jumper
- Warm fleece or jumper
- Warm and waterproof jacket - it can rain at any time of year and the evenings can be particularly cold

Legs

- Lightweight, comfortable riding trousers or jodhpurs - we recommend riding in them at home before taking them on holiday to ensure they don't rub
- Thermals
- Casual trousers for the evenings, such as jeans or tracksuit bottoms
- Waterproof over trousers
- Lightweight, comfortable trousers for non-riding days

Hands and Feet

- Comfortable riding boots. We recommend short boots with half chaps but you may wish to take long chaps as an extra layer against inclement weather. We don't recommend taking your favourite long leather boots in case they get damaged
- Waterproof shoes/boots can be useful for abundant dew in the mornings or when it rains
- Trainers or equivalent light shoes for moving around the camp in the evenings
- Several pairs of warm, thick socks
- Gloves - your hands are particularly exposed to the sun, cold or rain whilst riding. Waterproof gloves can be particularly useful

Nightwear

- Sleeping bag. You need at least a comfort factor down to minus 15 Celsius, or minus 20 if you feel the cold.
- Sleeping bag liner - silk, cotton or fleece - adds an extra layer
- Pyjamas or tracksuits or thermals for sleeping in

Other useful items

- Swimsuit - for swimming/bathing in rivers
- Small backpack for accessing items required during the day (carried by support crew)
- Camera and high capacity memory card. Spare battery
- Bumbag for carrying your camera and small items whilst riding
- Headtorch or small torch for moving around camp at night - bring spare batteries and bulbs

- Water bottle (2 litres or 2 x 1 litre)
- Wet Wipes or equivalent (for when washing facilities aren't available)
- Toilet paper and a lighter to burn it with
- Small plastic bags for rubbish
- Ear plugs (for light sleepers)

Medical kit

- Sunscreen and lip balm - should be high factor
- Insect repellent, preferably containing deet
- Any medication you regularly take
- Blister plasters in case of any rubs
- Antiseptic cream, plasters, aspirin, anti-histamine, insect-bite salve etc...
- Spare prescription glasses/contact lenses
- Eye drops
- Imodium or similar anti-diarrhoea medication
- Re-hydration sachets
- Water purification tablets
- Antiseptic wipes
- Handwash gel

You may wish to ask your doctor for some specific medication for travelling at High Altitudes. We recommend that you discuss this directly with your doctor who is best placed to advise on your personal medical history.

In your hold luggage

- Any liquids, such as shampoo, moisturiser, deodorant unless they are less than 100ml and all bottles can fit in a small, clear, plastic ziplock bag. We recommend biodegradable washing products where possible.
- Swiss army knife (or equivalent)

In your hand luggage

- Any valuables, such as your camera, ipod, ipad etc.
- Your riding hat

Our Recommendations

- Please don't take a hard sided suitcase. Your luggage should be soft sided with a capacity of 60-80 litres. We recommend taking a backpack or similar. Remember that you are supported by pack horses/mules so please pack light.
- Backpacks cannot be worn whilst riding. We recommend a small bum bag or a coat with pockets so that you can carry small items with you during the day (camera, sunscreen, lipbalm etc)
- We recommend travelling in your riding boots and carrying your hat and some riding clothes in your hand luggage - then if your luggage goes astray you are still able to ride!
- Even if foam/floor mattress is provided, we recommend to take your own inflatable mattress.
- We recommend taking a copy of your passport and insurance documents with you in case you lose your originals
- Please take your rubbish home with you. There are no recycling facilities in Peru, so take your used batteries, aerosols etc back home and dispose of them appropriately. Try to leave excess packaging material at home before travelling

SUSTAINABLE TOURISM

1. Travel light. It's a little known fact, but the lighter you pack, the better for the environment as heavy bags will produce higher emissions (when flying a plane or driving a car!).
2. Reduce plastic waste. Take your favorite reusable bottle with you. Avoid single-use bags, cups, or straws.
3. Preserve nature. Always take your rubbish with you during the ride and recycle them. Leave all the flowers or plants as you found them, and never get too close when observing wildlife. Make sure to use eco-friendly products such as body wash or laundry detergent (if camping) to protect both your skin and the environment.
4. Choose your experiences carefully. Respect animal life by not participating in any activities that abuse wild animals (shows, elephant rides, etc.).
5. Support local populations. Buy local handicrafts, be respectful of customs, and learn about the culture of local communities.
6. Share! Raise awareness among your family and friends about sustainable tourism.
